BROADWAY THEATER.

The Great Powers and strong aggregational of vaudeville players will finish up one of the biggest weeks at the Broadway theater this evening. There will be a special matinee today for the children, The Great Powers has amused and astoniahed the crowds all the week. This act was held over owing to his big success, but starting Monday the usual two entire new shows will be given weekly.

Heading the exceptionally strong big show which opens at Monday matinee for the first three days will be Adams and Mack, who do all kinds of burlesque magic in an eccentric way that always pleases. Rogers and Evans are two young chaps who have a lot of new sengs and also a splendid offering in the dancing line.

Everybody enjoys a good comedy levels and this one is a secream. "His serious the loty Communion and sermon at 10.30 at St. Andrew's church will be Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30 at St. Andrew's church will prayer and sermon at 10.30 at St

At the Second Congregational church Rev, Herbert J. Wyckoff of New Haven will preach Sunday morning on The Blessing of Routine. His evening topic is Grooves and Graves.

An all star vaudeville show, headed by one of the strongest drawing cards in the business, is announced for the week of January 24 at the Auditorium. "Maximus." the Russian Hercules, who is probably the strongest living man, will demonstrate his marvelous muscular power in many unique ways. Such trifles as pulling against 60 h. p. autos and letting two horses pulling in opposite directions and unable to move him, are mere child's play to Maximus. Special free demonstrations on Main street will be given during the week. Details will appear later in these columns. Another feature will be the Down East sketch, presented by the Hamilton, Clifton, Cornwell Co, and entitled "The Skipper's Mate." An original and clever musical comedian is Robert Macdonald, who in native Scotch costume performs on various instruments. Frank and Sadie Harrigan, an eccentric comedy duo, assisted by Master Harrigan, vaudeville's church, with address by Bishop Johnfirstruments. Frank and Sadie Harrigan, an eccentric comedy due, assisted by Master Harrigan, vaudeville's cleverest kid, will make things hum in the comedy line. Thursday three of the acts will be changed. Maximus remains all week. The Auditorium Trie will be heard in classical selections and illustrated songs. Pictures of the classy Auditorium kind, not to be seen elsewhere, complete the bill.

BREED THEATER. The Smuggler's Game, Thrilling Chinese Picture.

The especially strong and interesting bill at the Breed theater for the last half of the week attracted a packed house last evening, and the superb pictures displayed delighted everyone present. One of the features provided especially for school children, who are always present at the matinee Saturday, is the great picture said by the manufacturers to be the greatest educationally ever released by them, and entitled The Fishing Industry in Glouecster, Mass. This picture shows the business that has made famous, in every detail from panoramic view of the city, through all of the great trip of 169 miles to sea and return, as well as the preparation and packing of the codfish for the market. This picture shown at the Breed theater this season.

CANNON SCRAP.

Wesleyan Argus Advocates a Change in Annual Rules.

The Weselyan Argus says:

"The camon scrap is one of Wesleyan's most interesting customs. It is known wherever Wesleyan is known and it stands unique among college contests. Many are the venerable traditions and time honored memories which are associated with the old Douglas cannon. It is safe to say that more gratuitous ingenuity and deliberation has been expended by many an undergraduate upon problem
of getting that cannon on the campus
and keeping it there than would me necessary to complete the college curriculum in a single year. The educative effect of the scrap upon generations of Wesleyan men is a factor not to be lightly overlooked. Nor has it degenerated in recent years in this respect, for each year various new devices are in evidence.

"It certainly would be fair to say,
however, that for the past few years
at any rate for the last two years, the cannon scrap has lost its old time interest. There has been none of those dramatic incidents, none of that hard, hydred labor and exerting which we The Weselyan Argus says:

terest. There has been none of those dramatic incidents, none of that hard, physical labor and exertion which we are wont to associate with the cannon scrap. This fact is certainly to be regretted. The cannon scrap committee should do what it can in revising the rules so that the fight may be made more dramatic and spectacular without increasing the danger involved for the participants. The experience of the past two years has shown that the existing rules take all the spirit out of the fight. Perhaps some changes may be made which will correct this condition and give freshman and sophomore alike an opportunity for ingenuity and prowess."

Holders of Gold.

The great holders of gold are the state bank of Europe and the United States treasury, the latter institution leading all the rest with the tremendous amount of $1,034,000,000, of which $375,000,000 is held against gold certificates in circulation, $160,000,000 as reserve against greenbacks, and $9,000,000 is unpledged Treasury surplus.

Next comec the bank of Russia, with $712,880,000 of which part is security for $610,000,000 outstanding notes. Third in rank is the Bank of France, with $797,000,000 gold, held largely against notes, though this great bank, which carries much silver money, reserves the right, according to its judgment, to pay out silver—a sort of limited bimetalism, discreetly regulated in practice. The other large holders of gold are, in their order, Bank of Aus-tria-Hungary, $285,000,000; Bank of Germany, $179,825,000; Bank of Eng-land, $172,545,000. A relatively small holding of gold sustains the mighty fabric of British credit.—Mexican Her-

IF WE BUT KNEW.

Could we but draw back the curtains. That surround each others' lives. See the naked hearr and spirit. Know what spur the action gives, Often we would find it better. Purer than we judge we should—We should love each other better. If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives,
See the good and bad within,
Often we would love the sinner.
All the while we loathe the sin;
Could we know the powers working
To overthrow integrity,
We should judge each others' errors
With more patient charity.
